

HOME

OUTSHINE

BLOG

ABOUT

CONTACT

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

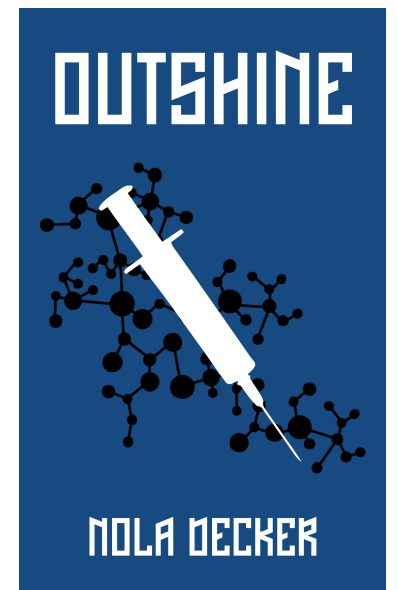

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

Click To Learn More

NOLA DECKER

HOMEOUTSHINEBLOGABOUTCONTACT

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

OUTSHINE

NOLA DECKER

Click To Learn More

Copyright Info Goes Here

HOME

OUTSHINE

BLOG

ABOUT

CONTACT

It’s All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I’m lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it’s all in my head. Whether I’m composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I’m manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It’s All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I’m lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it’s all in my head. Whether I’m composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I’m manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It’s All In My Head

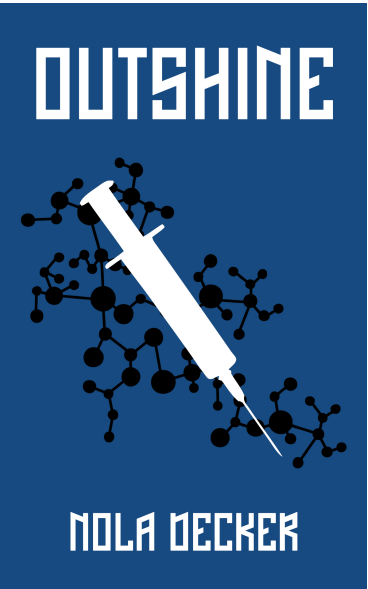

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I’m lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it’s all in my head. Whether I’m composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I’m manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It’s All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I’m lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it’s all in my head. Whether I’m composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I’m manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

Click To Learn More

NOLA DECKER

HOMEOUTSHINEBLOGABOUTCONTACT

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

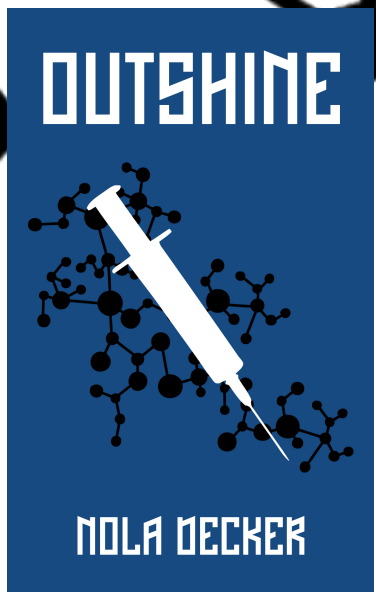

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

Click To Learn More

NOLA
DECKER

HOME OUTSHINE BLOG ABOUT CONTACT

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

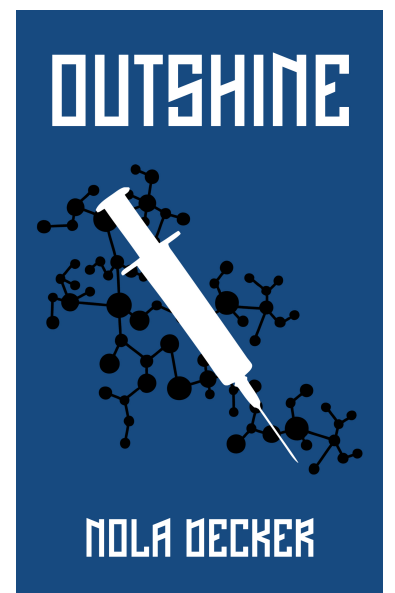

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

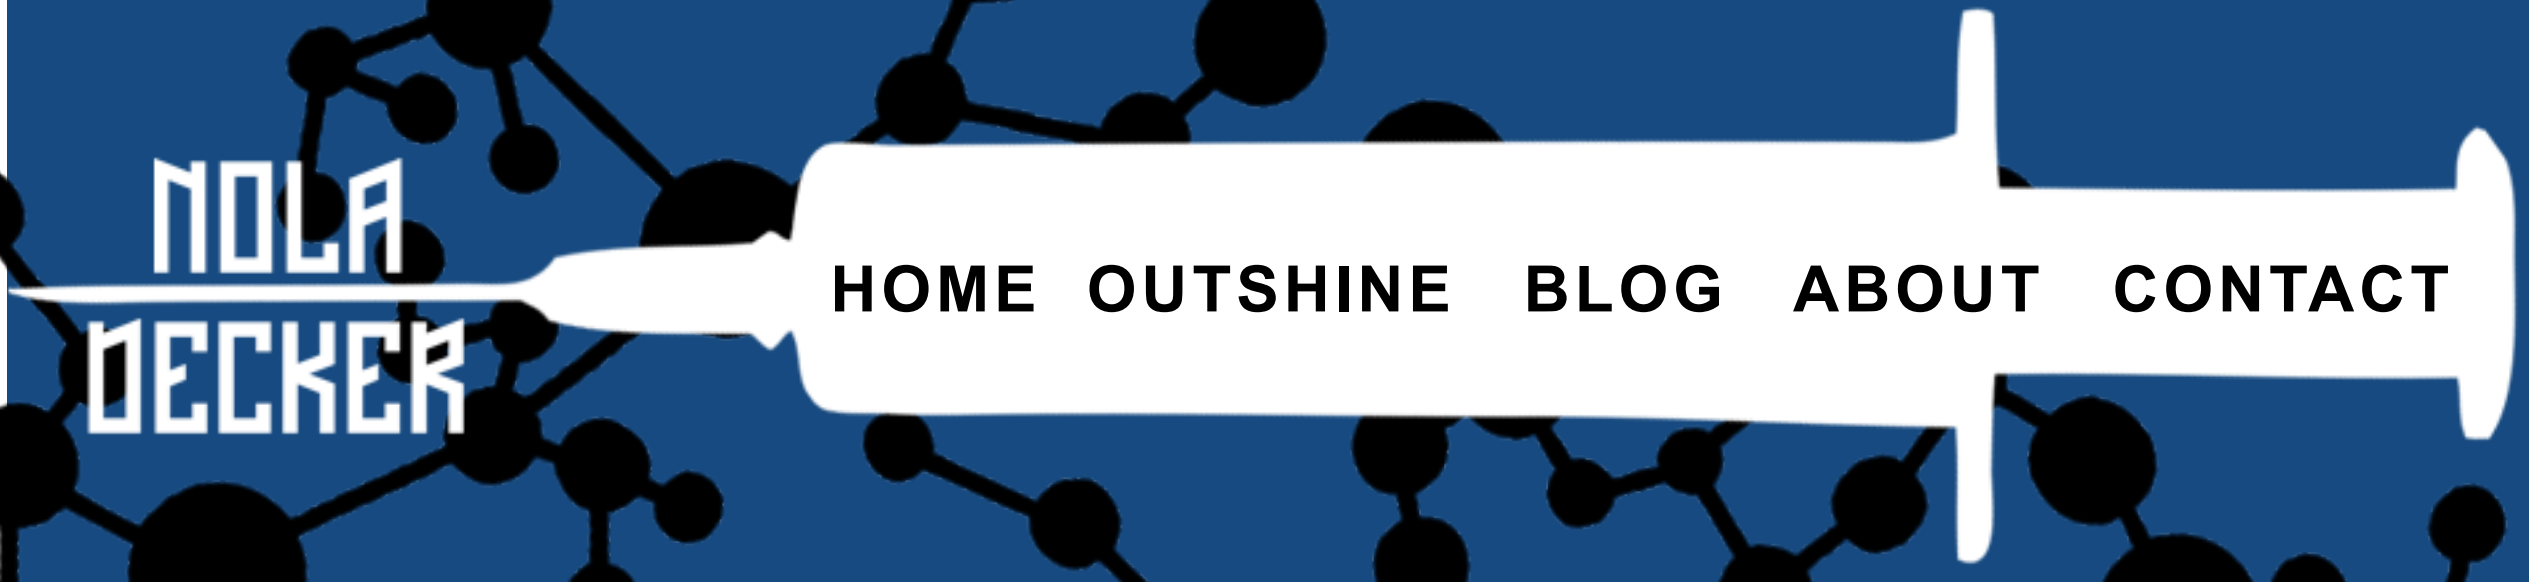

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

Click To Learn More

Copyright Info Goes Here

It’s All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I’m lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it’s all in my head. Whether I’m composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I’m manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It’s All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I’m lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it’s all in my head. Whether I’m composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I’m manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It’s All In My Head

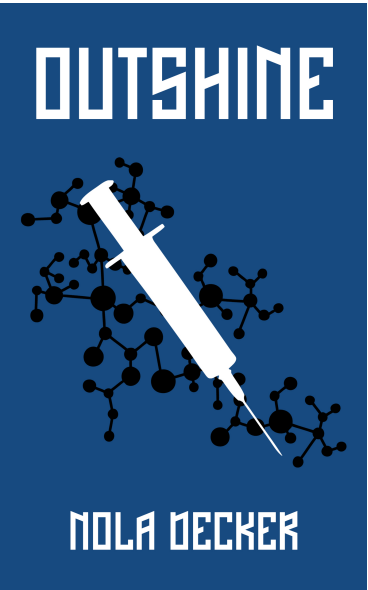

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I’m lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it’s all in my head. Whether I’m composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I’m manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It’s All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I’m lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it’s all in my head. Whether I’m composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I’m manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

Click To Learn More

NOLA
DECKER

HOME OUTSHINE BLOG ABOUT CONTACT

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

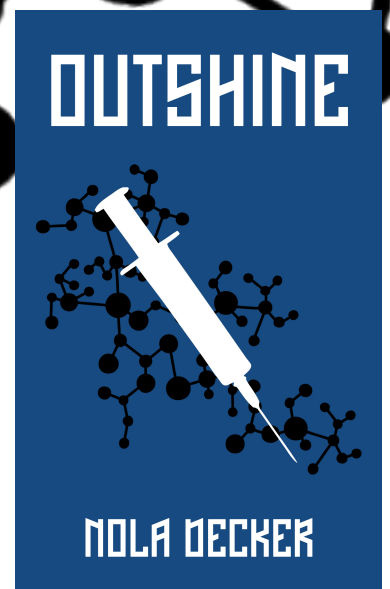

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I'm lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it's all in my head. Whether I'm composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I'm manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

Click To Learn More

Copyright Info Goes Here

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I’m lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it’s all in my head. Whether I’m composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I’m manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I’m lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it’s all in my head. Whether I’m composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I’m manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

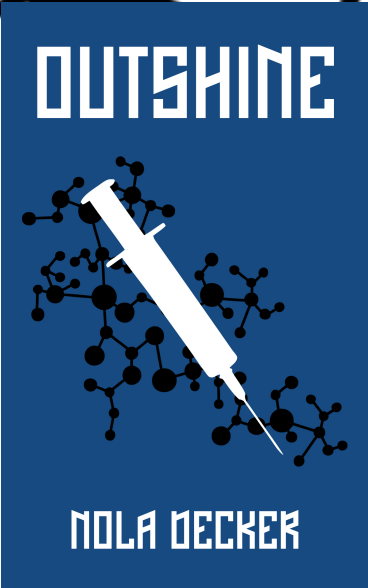

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I’m lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it’s all in my head. Whether I’m composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I’m manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

It's All In My Head

I think most writers are like me—putting words together in wonderful (or terrible) ways ALL THE TIME. When I’m lucky, I have a laptop or pencil at hand, but most of the time, like a bad case of schizophrenia, it’s all in my head. Whether I’m composing scenes in the shower, strengthening plotlines in the car or daydreaming at dinner, I’m manipulating words.

Continue Reading >>

Click To Learn More

